RESIDENCY VISA

A Dubai South Free Zone Company may apply for shareholder and/or employee residence visas after receiving its licence. The residence permit is valid for two years for the shareholders and for employees. The number of visas that may be applied for by the company depends on the size of the office (one visa per 9 sq. m.). A Smart Desk Office package offers up to two residence visas.

The minimum age at which a UAE residence visa can be obtained is 21 years old.

The retirement age for expatriates in the UAE is 60 years old; employment residence visas are not issued for those 60 and above. However, the shareholders of the company can still obtain a UAE residence visa regardless of age.

Holders of a residence visa must not remain outside of the UAE for more than 180 consecutive days.
